Charitable Bequest Information & Examples
Types of Charitable	Unrestricted: An unrestricted charitable bequest provides funds which the charity uses for Bequests	its general purposes. This type of bequest is extremely useful to an organization because the assets can be put to use in areas of greatest need.
	Restricted: A restricted charitable bequest limits the charity to use the gift in a specific manner. This can be a restriction to a particular fund, project or special area of interest. It is preferable to have restricted bequests defined as broadly as possible. By avoiding narrowly restricted bequests, both donor and the charity are assured that the gift's effectiveness will not be reduced because of changing circumstances.
Example of Beneficiary	Designation of Beneficiary forms are available through your local banker, life insurance
Gifts from Life Insurance,	broker or financial advisor and are completed most often when you initially open a bank,
